“Educating Young People in Justice and Peace”

Pope Benedict XVI has chosen the theme “Educating Young People in Justice and Peace” for the celebration of the 45th World Day of Peace which was held on January 1, 2012. The theme focuses on an urgent need in the world today: to listen to and enhance the important role of new generations in the realization of the common good, and in the affirmation of a just and peaceful social order where fundamental human rights can be fully expressed and realized.

The Message is addressed especially to parents, families and all those involved in the area of education and formation, as well as to leaders in the various spheres of religious, social, political, economic and cultural life and in the media.

The Message begins with an introductory paragraph

- (1) and is organized into 4 subsequent paragraphs (2-6), each of which has its own heading
- (2) Educators
- (3) Educating in truth and freedom
- (4) Educating in justice
- (5) Educating in peace
- (6) Lifting one's eyes to God.

Excerpt below:

“Education is the most interesting and difficult adventure in life. Educating – from the Latin educere – means leading young people to move beyond themselves and introducing them to reality, towards a fullness that leads to growth. This process is fostered by the encounter of two freedoms, that of adults and that of the young. It calls for responsibility on the part of the learners, who must be open to being led to the knowledge of reality, and on the part of educators, who must be ready to give of themselves. For this reason, today more than ever we need authentic witnesses, and not simply people who parcel out rules and facts; we need witnesses capable of seeing farther than others because their life is so much broader. A witness is someone who first lives the life that he proposes to others. Where does true education in peace and justice take place? First of all, in the family, since parents are the first educators. The family is the primary cell of society; “it is in the family that children learn the human and Christian values which enable them to have a constructive and peaceful coexistence. It is in the family that they learn solidarity between the generations, respect for rules, forgiveness and how to welcome others.” (1) The family is the first school in which we are trained in justice and peace”

PARISH HEALTH MINISTRY

"Proclaim the praises of Him you called you out of darkness into His wonderful light." Peter 2:9
Respond to Your Calling

In last week's article I discussed Christ's light continuing to shine in our hearts after Christmas if we just open up to His love. As we accept this love, we become more aware of Christ's light shining in us in our daily life and guiding our way. This leads us to want to follow that love allowing Jesus to guide us as we try to live more for Him and share that love with others. We each have our own unique calling to service for the Lord. With so many people in pain, lonely and in need of our help, this can seem overwhelming. As Henri Nouwen puts it so well, "We are not called to save the world, solve all problems, and help all people. But each of us has our own unique call, in our families, in our work, in our world. We have to keep asking God to help us see clearly what our call is and to give us the strength to live out that call with trust. Then we will discover that our faithfulness to a small task is the most healing response to the illnesses of our time."

As we enter this New Year, pray for God to guide you in the direction of service He has chosen for you. Be patient and attentive and God will provide you with guidance and direction. If you possibly have a calling to help our Parish Health Ministry, we have many parishioners who need our love and support. We are always looking for volunteers in these areas:

- Help with transportation for seniors to their Dr. appointments, and food shopping.
- Make calls to parishioners who have recently been discharged from the hospital for PHM to see how they are doing and check if they need any help from PHM.
- Visitation to some of our parishioners who are unable to leave their home.

James: Pearls for Wise Living
Thursday mornings 9:45 a.m. - 11:45 a.m. and evenings 6:45 p.m. - 8:45 p.m.,
January 19 to March 22 at St. James, Lititz

James is one of the most practical books of the Bible. Like the Book of the Proverbs, it is a book of wisdom, a collection of teachings on issues faced by ordinary Christians in everyday life. These teachings speak loudly to all those who feel torn between the competing demands of this world and their faith.

This study offers "pearls of wise living" by applying the wisdom of James to the present day. For anyone who has struggled to live a truly Christian life, James offers a wealth of practical solutions for handling and even sanctifying everyday circumstances.

Morning sessions include continental breakfast; evening sessions dessert and coffee. Participants may move between morning and evening as fits their schedules. A donation of $10 is requested to cover the cost of the workbook for all those able to contribute.
